

PAINTING: A Messy Endeavor

Painting is a messy endeavor. First, there is the paint itself—bright goo to be mixed in any color you’ve ever thought of or seen. Second, the most common tool for applying it is a brush, a stick with hairs glued to the end of it. Is this why painting is so much fun?

The other kind of mess painting offers is the “translation” mess. How to get that bright idea shining forth from the imagination onto the canvas? Is this why painting is called work?

Plan to find out for yourself. This messy endeavor is a mix of painting practice exercises and open painting.

SCHEDULE Six Tuesday mornings beginning March 30– May 4, 9:30am-12:30pm

LOCATION Studio 108, 4949 N. Broadway Boulder CO

$260. Limit 12 painters. Suitable for seasoned painters and daring beginners.

Registration form follows.

PAINTING: A Messy Endeavor REGISTRATION

Six Tuesday mornings beginning March 30st-May 4th, 9:30am-12:30pm.

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

EMAIL _____

PHONE _____ AMOUNT ENCLOSED _____

To reserve your space for PAINTING: A MESSY ENDEAVOR please complete this form and send it with a non-refundable deposit of $75 payable to Joan Anderson, 3003 Valmont Rd. #204, Boulder CO 80301. A materials list and directions to STUDIO 108 will be sent upon receipt of your registration & deposit. Space limited to 12 painters.

Happy to have you spread the word to your friends and family!

Thank you!